THE importance of Chusan, from a political, 7560 | ment was a grave mistake, but Hogland ap- England to use her influence to prevent the 7615 pears to keep a watchful eye on the place in island from falling into the hands of any 8105 8118 instructions to immediately undock at Naga-Russo-Chinese complication, a Russian man-8396 of-war visited Chusan, but found a British man-of-war already there, the crew of which were very busy apparently fixing up the graves of the British soldiers and sailors who were buried on the island. This, says our contemporary, may be only a coincidence, but it looks very much as if England had a suspicion that other nations have an eve on Chusan, a state of affairs she would try to circumvent. When the island was in the hands of the British, trade began to become as important a possession as Hong- | conceivable that China would, under certain kong, and that the valuable trade which now | circumstances, be willing to hand over the centres at Shanghai would have found its inland to the administration of England on head-quarters there. to-do agricultural population, estimated to number at the time of the British occupation 270,000. The island is eminently adapted for a commercial entrapot, and what Hongkong is in the south Chusan ought to have been made in the north. The trade now centring at Shangbai would then have been under the exclusive jurisdiction of the English Government; there would have been no conflicting pational interests, as at Shanghai, and there would have been no obstructive mandarindom to impede the establishment of manufactories. We in Hongkong are apt to envy Shanghai its municipal arrangements, but the regulation of the streets and markets and the control of the police by the ratepayers is but an insignificant advantage when compared with the grave disadvantages attending its anomalous system of government. The Shanghai correspondent of the Times recently wrote:-"Shanghai is already the chief commercial emporium of China, and it is destined to become the greatest centre of population in the empire. The points of friction between the natives and foreigners will be multiplied, and to make intercourse go smoothly will require great skill, firmness, and mutual forbearance. But in a community so circumstanced as this, how is this rare combination of qualities to be embodied? The residents are all temporary, and are too much occupied the exception of the English, are also more educated from their youth, the pay and class of men. The existence of a British Supreme Court also, with a full judicial staff, confers a further and a special importance on the English section of the com-

But, from a period which seems to have commenced a few Years after the death of Lord PALMERSTON, Chinhai and been arrested, by the Chinese a change has been creeping over this oncedistinguished zervice: A spirit of selfeffacement has overshadowed the Consulates, and his return is expected daily. We learn that and, with the exceptions which are found to every general rule, the English Consul is the one man who is neither heard of nor thought of. Individually the Consuls are no more to blame for this deplorable state of things than the Chinese mandarins for for the last four months and conducted into the the iniquities of their Government. The him that he had just received a despatch from Consule have found by experience the prefect of Sungking asking that the that the kind of service which insures then handcuffed, loaded with obsine, and taken promotion is silence and sloth." It would not be easy now to rectify the mistakes of the past, but looking back, it is easy to see how they could have been avoided, and what great additional advantages would have been attained, by the permanent occupation of Chusan. There we would have had a commercial actilement as flourishing as that of gipth year, it (that is, its Tohabitants) has been Shanghai entirely under British jurisdiction, examined." CRICKET MATCH.

An 11 OF THE HONGKONG CHICKET CLUB V. AN II OF THE ROYAL NAVY. The atrongest cricketting element of the Bri arrived at this station, a match under the shove titles was commenced on Friday afternoon and continued the following day.

Stopford, the Navy captain, having wen the toss, sent Plumbe and Gibbons to face the bowling of D'Aeth and Rive. As both batamen played a careful game no separation was affected till the third ball of the 12th over, when Plumbe fell to a yery smart handed high-up catch by Brackenbury next man in but he failed to score. Two for 25. Daubeny was "on deck," but the score was not increased when he joined Gibbons, who sent one into the safe hands of Dauglish, baving put to ... ther a creditable 16. McMunn's, De Chair's and Browne's wickets fell soon afterwards in rapid succession. 6 wickets down for 45. It was not antil Paranhar come in that a stand was made. The score was raised to 88 before the 7th wicket, Daubeny's, fell the retiring batsman having compiled a freely hit 89, consisting of one 5, eight 3e one 2, and singles. Gamble and Stoplord were not in luok. Gubbins stepping out too far from his ground caused the innings to close for 116 to which Farquhar contributed (not out) 37, made by good all round oricket.

Rice and Dauglish went in first for the Club,

Plumbo and Do Chair were the Navy bowlers.

The first ball delivered dismissed Bicc. one winket for 0: D'Aeth and Jarrett went in 1st and 2nd wickets down respectively, but not making a long stay disappointed their friends' expectations. Plumbe was doing all the damage with the ball. 40 runs had been scored when the third wicket fell. Porter then joined Danglish, who was playing in capital form, and matters were beginning to look livelier until "one" from Farqubar found its way past the latter's bat. His innings of 22 was as sound a display of batting as we have seen in Hongkong, and was conspicuous for his low drives along the ground, combined with a strong forward defence. Whyte became Porter's essociate, and when stumps were drawn for the day was still in. Play was resumed about noon on Saturday, when the "not outs" continued their innings. Both batamen were distinctly "on it" and never failed to punish a loose ball. Porter's career was, however, out short through a mis-understanding with his partner. His 39 was made in fine form and comprised one 5, seven 3s, and singles. Five wickets for 113. Whyte saw Fincham and Lloyd retire before his own wicket fell, having contributed a capitally played 47 made up of one 6, one 5, five 3s, two 2s, and singles. The remainder did not trouble the field much. Brackenbury, while in showed good form for his 4 (not out). The innings eventually elesed for 156. The Navy in their second essay reached only 81. The bowling was straight and Brackenbury's wicket keeping glaed most of the Navy, men to their ground. Cooks was top scorer with 3 made in very good form. With 41 runs to get to win, Rice and Dauglish were the first to represent the Club in their ascend innings at the wickets. The latter was badly ran out by the former, when, by a splendid piece of fielding, Farquhar, who was bowling, smartly grasped a hard return from Rice and put down ... Dauglish's wicket. Porter filled the Tacancy. The requisite number of rans were obtained with. out the less of a second wicket, but the innin 's was continued till the usual time for drawing wickets, when the total stood at 145 for 4 wickets, Jarrett made 46 of that number, made up of two 5s, one 4, seven Se, one 2. and singles, and Rice 71 (not out), consisting of three 5s, one 4, nine Ss, four 2s, and singles.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "DAILY PERSS," Sir. -In common with many others, I was estonished at the discourtesy to which His Ercel. lenov Governor Roze was submitted at the Roman Catholio Cathedrai this morning. Instead of being conducted through the principal gate to the seats reserved for distinguished personages, as was usually the case with Sir John Pope Hannessy, His Excellency Governor Roza, after waiting for a short time at the entrance, had to remain standing at the foot of the nave while the service going on. It is hardly conceivable why the clerky should be so careless of civility here, while their delicate attention to distinguished personages in Europe and elsewhere is 19 seretch 19 so well known. The discourtesy in this instance ... - ... - may be attributed to inadvertence, but surely a Loucheon and refreshments were provided on little attention on the part of those concerned the ground, tents being pitched at the long would have spared the inconvenience. CHINA'S OPPOSITION TO FRANCE.

His Excellency the Vicercy of the Linny Kiang has received an important Decree from Peking, dated the 30th of the 9th moon, an abstract of which we have now procured. Its tenor is as follows :- " The fact that Annam is a vassal state of China is known uniwersally. Yet France has actually dared, both in times past and present, usurpingly to invade and throw it into disorder; by which she has already placed herself in the wrong. Moreover, the city of Bacuinh, with its environs, constitutes the door of the Heavenly Realm, and formerly there were numbers of soldiers stationed there to guard it; yet Frauce has on repeated occasions plotted how she may eneroseb upon it, in real defiance of justice and propriety. We have therefore issued express commands to the Prince and Ministers of the Tsung-li Yame 1 to command the public envoy of France on Our behalf, that if that nountry dares to make any further attempt to encrosely upon Bacnian, China will immediately despatch a large zemy, and give battle to the French s once. In a dition to this, the Yamen is instruct. ed to communicate with the Superintendents of Trade for the Northern and Southern Ports, and the Viceroys and Governors of the Liang, Kuang. Yunnan, and Kucichow, commanding them all to provide troops and munitions of war, and to raise whatever recruits may be necessary ; exercising, of course, great care in order to pre-merve the Treaty Ports from all disturbance, so that the mercantile classes may be able puraus-their trade in peace."

P'éag Yu-lia has already arrived in Knangtung, and large contingents of soldiery have followed him from Chinking. -N. C. Doily News. We have it on trustworthy authority that the Grand Secretaries at Peking have written to Chang, Vicercy of Canton, ordering him to proceed to the boundary of the Liang Kwang and protect the border and prevent the French from entering China. Meanwhile Peng Yu lie, recently Admiral of the Yangteze, is to act as Vicercy of Canton and be prepared to defend it against any attacks by the French.

It is believed here in Chinese official circles that Taking Kno-chasa, anole of the Minister to England, who is understood to be now at Peking. is likely to be appointed either as Vicercy of Nanking in the place of Tso, or as Generalissimo of these provinces with special charge to protect the Yangtaze and Shanghai and the neighbouring ports. His appointment as Viceroy is subject to the Emperor seconding to another urgent appeal from Tso Tsung-t'ang to resign, but in sent orisis of affairs it is extramely unlikely that his wishes will be complied with.
